Pickpockets of the Paris Exhibition.
[Paris correspondence of London Advertiser.]

The most successful demonstration of British industry that has as yet been developed by the Exhibition has been displayed by English pickpockets. In the art of "faking a cly" they are unrivalled, and to this valuable acquirement they have now added that of eluding the vigilance of the sergens de ville and of the private policemen, who lurk in plain clothes in places where they are least expected. Since competition is so much in fashion in everything nowadays, a trial of strength and skill has of late come off between the French and English thieves. The former were stung with maddened jealousy at hearing the complaints of lost watches and purses, and challenged their rivals to a conflict, which came off a few days since. Seven English and seven French thieves started on their predatory expedition through the Exhibition, and agreed to meet at a cafe in the boulevards, or rather at a restaurant, where they had previously engaged a cabinet particulier, and had ordered a supper, to be "stood" by the vanquished. They met at the appointed hour, and you will be proud of your countrymen's superiority when you learn that they triumphantly displayed forty-five watches and nine portemonnaies, whereas the French tyros in the noble art could display but ten watches, three portemonnaies and half a dozen handkerchiefs, "small deer," which are disclaimed by the professed pickpocket, and are only "laked" during a novitiate in the profession. They magnanimously avowed themselves vanquished, and agreed to recognize the superiority of the victors in the form most pleasing to them by standing half a dozen champagne, followed by bowls of blazing punch in quick succession.

Up to this stage all had been highly gratifying to our national pride, but the hour of Britain's humiliation was drawing nigh. Our countrymen fell under the table; their hosts, though they had not read the tale of Falstaff's disaster at Gadshill, fell upon their prostrate foes, eased them of their plunder, and retired in triumph with the forty-five watches, purses, &c., and, moreover, left the waiters instructions to apply for payment of the bill to the gentlemen up stairs on the floor.

CONSTITUTIONAL LIBERTY—ELOQUENT EXTRACT.—In one of his great speeches, Daniel Webster thus spoke of Constitutional Liberty: "Other misfortunes may be borne, or their effects overcome. It was should sweep our commerce from the ocean, another generation may renew it; if it exhausts our treasury, future industry may replenish it; if it desolate and lay waste our fields, still, under our cultivation, they will grow green again, and, in time, the walls of your Capitol were to crumble, if its lofty piers should fall, and its gorgeous decoration be covered by the dust of the valley. "All these might be built. But who shall reconstruct the fabric of demolished government? Who shall rear again the well proportioned columns of constitutional liberty? Who shall frame together the skillful architecture which unites National Sovereignty with States Rights, individual security and public prosperity? Now, if these columns shall fall, they will be reared not again. Like the Coliseum and the Parthenon, they will be destined to a melancholy, mournful immortality. Bitter tears, however, will flow over them than were ever shed on the monuments of Rome or of a Grecian Art, for they will be the remnants of a more glorious edifice than Greece or Rome ever saw—the edifice of Constitutional American Liberty."

ECONOMY.—The Richmond Times in ably urging the necessity for the strictest economy on the part of our people, says truthfully that the South is filled with families born and reared in affluence, who are suffering for the want of the necessities of life. Educated men and refined women all over the land are accepting their suffering with the silence of proud despair, or are content to accept the humblest occupations. The anticipated prosperity of Virginia is still a long way off, and is separated from us by a broad, deep gulf of poverty and present embarrassment. Our people are in debt, and they have no capital. Our people have been cured of extravagance of better times; but our condition demands a far more rigid economy than we have yet learned to practice. There is no escape for us but in saving. All sorts of jugglery have been devised for evoking money out of vacuum, but although pretty and plausible on paper, they have all had the one great fault of failing in practice. Saving is not easy, but our only pathway to future prosperity and comfort leads through the narrow rugged defiles of economy. We must war upon luxuries and ruthlessly cut down our expenses to the lowest possible figure. With costly apparel, expensive upholstery, stunning equipages, rich wines and viands, and gorgeous furniture, we can have nothing to do for many years.—Lynchburg News.

ROMANCE AMONG THE "UPPER TEN."—The New York correspondent of the Rochester Union relates the following: "A romantic instance of faithful love has occurred in a prominent family residing on Fifth avenue. Some years since the youthful daughter—only fourteen—courtied in childish fashion by a gentleman of seventeen, went clandestinely with him to get married. The parents learned what was going on, arrived at the church just as the ceremony was concluded, and carried off, severely, the bride and bridegroom. The latter was marched off to school; the former locked up in her room, and soon after taken to Paris. Here she remained with her mother till she was eighteen, when she was introduced into society. Her beauty and fortune attracted many visitors, but she repelled all their advances. She had, at long intervals, kept up a correspondence with the youthful husband, from whom she had been separated; and not long since on whom her eyes lighted was the Benedict aforesaid, grown more manly and handsome, and eager to embrace his wife. The parents no longer opposed their reunion."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

KNOW THY DESTINY.—MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrist, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located her self at Hudson, N.Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometrop, produces a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send, when desired, a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to your agent, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. All communications strictly confidential. Address, in confidence, Madame E. F. Thornton, P. O. Box 223 Hudson, N. Y. mh 22-1y

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, dashed face, she had a soft, rosy complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the Circassian Balm, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any lady's toilet. By its use any lady or gentleman can improve their personal appearance a hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful.—Price $1, sent by Mail or Express, on receipt of an order by L. CLARK & CO., Chemists, No. 3, West Fayette st., Syracuse, N. Y. The only American Agents for the sale of the same. mh 12-1y

WONDERFUL, BUT TRUE!—MADAME REMINGTON, the world-renowned Astrologist and Somnambulist Clairvoyant, while in a clairvoyant state, delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometrop, produces a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, with date of marriage, occupation, leading traits of character, &c. This is no imposition, as testimonials without number can assert. By stating place of birth, age, disposition, color of eyes and hair, and enclosing fifty cents, and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture by return mail, together with desired information. Address, in confidence, MADAME REMINGTON, P. O. Box 227, West Troy, New York. mh 12-1y

MEDICAL.

REPARATOR CAPILLI.
Throw away your false frizzes, your switches, your wig—
Destructive to comfort, and not worth a fig;
Come aged, come young, come ugly and fair,
And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair.

REPARATOR CAPILLI.
For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth; it cures the world-wide hair loss, and it will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say, how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Repurator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your druggist does not keep it, send us $1, and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, providing entire satisfaction is not given. At the wonderful revelations made by the Great Astrologist,
MADAME H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful regrets, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, and in the business you are best qualified to pursue, and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thought, and by her most supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malice stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation free. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person.
